Processing of personal data in the company

We process personal data that we receive from you in the context of an inquiry, the initiation of business or our business relationship. We further process, as far as necessary for the fulfillment of the contract, personal data that we have received from other companies or from other third parties (e.g. for the execution of orders, for the fulfillment of contracts or on the basis of your consent). On the other hand, we process personal data that we have legitimately obtained and are allowed to process from publicly accessible sources.

Relevant personal data are personal details (name, address and other contact details, date and place of birth and nationality). In addition, this can also be order data, data from the fulfillment of our contractual obligations, information about your financial situation (creditworthiness data), advertising and sales data, documentation data, as well as other data comparable to the categories mentioned.

1. Purposes and legal bases of the processing

The purposes of the processing primarily depend on the service you have commissioned or requested.

1.1. The processing is necessary for the fulfillment of a contract or for the implementation of pre-contractual measures ((Art. 6 Para. 1 b GDPR).

- The processing of personal data takes place for the provision and brokering of commercial transactions, in particular for the implementation of our contracts or pre-contractual measures with you and the execution of your orders. Furthermore for the implementation of contracts in the employment relationship.

1.2. Processing takes place within the framework of the weighing of interests (Art. 6 Para. 1 Letter f GDPR). If necessary, we process your data beyond the actual fulfillment of the contract to protect legitimate interests of us or third parties.

- Data exchange with credit agencies (SCHUFA, Creditreform) to determine creditworthiness and default risks

- Advertising or market and opinion research, unless you have objected to the use of your data
- Assertion of legal claims and defense in legal disputes
- Ensuring IT security
- Prevention and investigation of crime
- Measures for building and plant security (especially video surveillance)
- Measures for business management and further development of services and products.

1.3. You have given your consent to the processing of your personal data for one or more specific purposes (Art. 6 Para. 1 A GDPR).

- If you give us your consent to the processing of personal data for specific purposes (e.g. advertising, sending newsletters, publishing photos or personal data), the lawfulness of this processing is based on your consent.
- A given consent can be revoked at any time. This also applies to the revocation of declarations of consent given to us before the GDPR came into effect, i.e. before May 25, 2018.
- The revocation only applies with future effect. Processing that took place before the revocation is not affected.

1.4. The processing is necessary to fulfill a legal obligation to which we are subject (Art. 6 Para. 1 Letter C GDPR).

- As a company, we are subject to various legal obligations in the context of tax and social security control and reporting obligations. Further requirements can arise from the Severely Disabled Persons Act, on the part of professional associations, fraud and money laundering prevention, the fulfillment of the requirements of the EU Anti-Terrorism Regulation and others.

2. Recipients or categories of recipients of the data (if data is transmitted)

2.1. Within the company, those departments receive your data that they need to fulfill our contractual and legal obligations. Order processors employed by us (Art. 28 GDPR) can also receive data for these purposes. These are companies in the categories of credit services, IT services, printing services, telecommunications, consulting and consulting as well as sales and marketing.

2.2. Outside of the company, companies may receive your data, which they need to fulfill our contractual obligations. Under these conditions, recipients of personal data can e.g. B. be:

- Tax consultants, auditors, consultants
- Lawyers (disputes, collections, etc.)
- Technicians / craftsmen (maintenance, repair measures)
- Transport and logistics company
- debt collection company
- Banks / savings banks
- credit agencies (SCHUFA, Creditreform)

3. Storage duration or criteria for determining the duration

If necessary, we process and store your personal data for the duration of our business relationship, which includes, for example, the initiation and execution of a contract. In addition, we are subject to various storage and documentation obligations, which essentially result from the German Commercial Code (HGB) and the Tax Code (AO). The periods for storage and documentation specified there are six to ten years.

Finally, the storage period is also assessed according to the statutory limitation periods, which, for example, usually 3 years according to §§ 195 ff. Of the Civil Code (BGB), if the preservation of evidence, for example in the context of judicial proceedings, can lead to the limitation periods of the Civil Code (BGB) up to 30 years if a legal title exists.

After the contractual relationship has ended, the data will be deleted after the statutory retention requirements have expired.

4. Information on the rights of those affected

Every data subject has the following data protection rights under the GDPR:

- Right to information according to Art. 15 GDPR
- Right to correct incorrect data according to Art. 16 GDPR
- Right to deletion according to Art. 17 GDPR
- Right to restriction of processing according to Art. 18 GDPR
- Right to data portability according to Art. 20 GDPR
- Right to object according to Art. 21 GDPR

To exercise your above-mentioned rights and revoke your consent, please contact the above-mentioned body.

You have the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority. You can exercise this right with a supervisory authority in the Member State of your residence, your place of work, or the place of the alleged violation.

Before you contact the responsible supervisory authority with a complaint, we would like to ask you to clarify this matter with our data protection officer.

5. Planned data transfer to third countries

There is currently no data transfer to third countries and is not planned in the future.

6. Voluntary and obligation to provide personal data

As part of our business relationship, the personal data must be provided that is necessary for the establishment and implementation of a business relationship and the fulfillment of the associated contractual obligations or which we are legally obliged to collect. Without this data, we are unable to conclude or execute a contract.

7. Automated decision making including profiling

In principle, we do not use exclusively automated decision-making within the meaning of Art. 22 GDPR to establish and carry out the business relationship.
